The event will focus on looking forward, on the future of cities.

“In the world, the rearview mirror is always clearer than the windshield”.

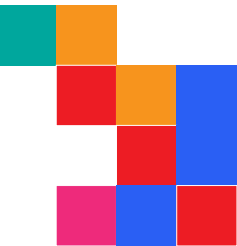

The goal will be to explore the future of cities in the face of climate urgency and fair social ecological transitions. Future is already there, embedded in innovative projects and initiatives. We don't bet only on long-term vision but practical and promising innovations that will shape the future of cities. We need to be disruptive, open minded and unconventional to address the challenges and do the right thing!

To that end, four studios will be physically held by the “Four” SCC-2016 projects. They will look at four themes that will make the future of cities:

1. The future of Energy Communities
2. The future of Urban Data Platforms (TBC)
3. The future of citizen engagement (TBC)
4. The future of Urban Mobility (TBD)

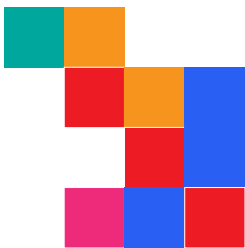

With the help of a panel of experts, the “Four” will explore their desirable futures, as well as the business, organisational and technological models to reach them. A web conference will be set up in order for all to join the discussion.

The European Commission SCALE initiative will present its portfolio of activities to foster replication and scaling up of smart solutions as well as to create a sustainable communities of cities and practitioners.
